Man proven not guilty after serving 13 years in jail BERLIN: A man who spent 13 years in prison in Germany for the death of a woman was acquitted in a retrial on Friday by a court that determined the supposed

murder victim had died in an accident. Manfred Genditzki, 63, who worked at the complex where the woman lived, always insisted that he was innocent. He fought for years to get the case reopened, and succeeded last August, securing his release.

Fire in a nursing home kills 6 in Italy

MILAN: A fire that broke out in a Milan nursing home early on Friday killed six of the residents and injured about 80 others, Italian firefighters said. Firefighters said the blaze began about 1:30 am, apparently in the room of two female residents, who were among the dead. Also dead were three other women and a man. Among the injured, two were in critical condition, while most of the others were being treated for smoke inhalation. firefighters told Italian state radio.

Tax protesters arrested in Kenya

NAIROBI: More than 20 antigovernment protesters were arrested in Kenva's capital. Nairobi, on Friday as other parts of the country also witnessed demonstrations called by the opposition against newly imposed taxes. Hundreds of protesters turned up in Nairobi, as well as in the coastal city of Mombasa and the lakeside city of Kisumu where the opposition enjoys huge support, but were dispersed by police who fired tear gas canisters at them. The protesters had lit bonfires and barricaded some major roads.

US to destroy its last chem weapons

RICHMOND: Workers at the Blue Grass Army Depot are close to destroying rockets filled with GB nerve agent that are the last of the United States' declared chemical weapons and completing a decadeslong campaign to eliminate a stockpile that by the end of the Cold War totaled more than 30,000 tons. The weapons' destruction is a major watershed for Richmond, Kentucky and Pueblo, Colorado, where an Army depot destroyed the last of its chemical agents last month. It's also a defining moment for arms control efforts worldwide

Yellen criticises Chinese treatment of US companies

AP / Beijing

Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen criticised Chinese treatment of US companies and new export controls on metals used in semiconductors during a visit on Friday to Beijing to try to revive strained relations. Talking with a group of business-people, Yellen defended US controls on technology exports that irk Beijing, saying they are necessary for national security. She rejected suggestions Washington is trying to decouple, or separate the US economy from China's. "The US seeks healthy economic competition with China,' Yellen said, according to a transcript released by her department. ## Twitter threatens to sue Meta over Threads

AP / New York

Twitter has threatened legal action against Meta over its new text-based app called Threads, which has drawn tens of millions of users since launching this week as a rival to Elon Musk's social media platform.

In a letter Wednesday to Meta CEO Mark Zuckerberg, Alex Spiro, an attorney representing Twitter, accused Meta of unlawfully using Twitter's trade secrets and other intellectual property by hiring former Twitter employees to create a "copycat" app. The move ramps up the tensions between the social media giants after Threads debuted Wednesday, targeting those who are seeking out alternatives to Twitter amid unpopular changes Musk has made to the platform since buying it last year for $44 billion.

Meta spokesperson Andy Stone wrote Thursday on Threads: "No one on the Threads engineering team is a former Twitter employee
